APPLICATIONS FOR SEAMS SCHOOLS 2023 IS NOW OPEN

The Southeast Asian Mathematical Society (SEAMS) is now accepting applications for SEAMS Schools to be conducted in 2023. Universities, research centers and other institutions in Southeast Asia are encouraged to propose research schools intended primarily for advanced undergraduates and master's students on topics with foreseeable development in the region. SEAMS gratefully acknowledges the Centre International de Mathematiques Pures et Appliquées (CIMPA) for financial support for the SEAMS Schools. The deadline for all applications is on 31 August 2022.

Details of the application and selection process are provided in the document "SEAMS School Roadmap (updated 2022)". Applicants should also consult the document "CIMPA Support Guidelines Conditions for Schools in Partnership".
